

New Tenant: Jamie Muir Wood

Hogarth Chambers is pleased to announce that Jamie Muir Wood has accepted an invitation to join Hogarth Chambers. Jamie did his pupillage at Hogarth Chambers.

During and since completing his pupillage Jamie has been involved in a broad range of intellectual property matters which have included patents, copyright, design rights, trade marks and passing off. In addition, Jamie has gained considerable experience on secondment with a leading intellectual property law firm working on telecommunications patent litigation amongst other matters.

Before joining Hogarth, Jamie gained a combined BA and MSci from the University of Cambridge. He also holds a PhD (Materials Science) from the University of Cambridge and an MSc (Construction Law and Dispute Resolution) from King's College London.

Upon completion of his studies, Jamie spent five years working in the construction industry. Jamie's technical and commercial background gives him an ideal foundation for working on complex intellectual property disputes. Jamie was called to the Bar in 2012.

For more information, please see Jamie's profile.
